

Joseph's Conclusion

Judah speaks on behalf of the brothers; he offers to sacrifice his life for the sake of someone he thought was guilty (Ben).

In this way, he becomes a prototype of  $\mathcal{P}$ , who one day would sacrifice his life for the guilty. Judah had truly repented; he had passed the TEST! Gen. 45: Joseph finally reveals his identity.

- he doesn't punish them, instead he forgives them. He tells them it was who sent him to Egypt. For the sake of saving lives. "What you meant for evil, <sup>JOSEPH</sup> got used for good."

Joseph too, is a type of  $\mathcal{P}$ . He suffers greatly in order to save the lives of the people.

All of the Israelites end up coming to Egypt to live in security during the famine. For a time, Israel had peace. But then Joseph and the pharaoh dies and a new pharaoh comes.
